NIGHT LIFE

Kiran Ahluwalia

Born in India, raised in Canada, and based in New York City, this singer has been playing Indian classical and folk songs since she was in elementary school. While in New York, she met the noted guitarist Rez Abbasi, who is a native of Pakistan and grew up in California. Now married, they are potent musical collaborators. Abbasi produced Ahluwalia's new album, "Sanata: Stillness," weaving a ringing electric-guitar tapestry throughout it. They'll be joined in concert by Nitin Mitta, on tabla, Will Holshouser, on accordion, and Nikku Nayar, on electric bass. Expect a vibrant, stirring amalgam of Eastern, Western, and African modalities and rhythms. (Roulette, 509 Atlantic Ave., Brooklyn. 917-267-0363. Feb. 21.)
